

BUILDING BRIDGES

A PIRS and Family Services of Greater Vancouver Women's Development Program

This program is designed for immigrant women who have:

- functional competency in English (high intermediate level)
- effective interpersonal skills and a strong desire to work with others in a helping role
- experience in the settlement/integration process, with a readiness to assist others in this process
- some experience working in a group or community development setting (in Canada or overseas)
- the ability to meet the time commitments and other requirements of the program
- a commitment to using the skills and knowledge acquired in a group setting and/or at an organizational level

If you are interested in developing your facilitation skills and furthering or exploring your career opportunities in a community/network setting, this program will be a great resource to you. Participants will gain knowledge, skills, and resources to enhance their employment possibilities.
